

SAFE AT HOME

WISCONSIN ADDRESS CONFIDENTIALITY PROGRAM

GUIDE FOR SCHOOLS

WISCONSIN DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
OFFICE OF CRIME VICTIM SERVICES

This document is intended to provide information and guidance to Wisconsin schools regarding Safe at Home. District administrators are encouraged to establish and adopt procedures that work best for their district. Information contained in this guide does not constitute legal advice.

Overview

Safe at Home is a statewide address confidentiality program and mail-forwarding service that provides victims of actual or threatened abuse, stalking, and/or human trafficking with a legal substitute address to be used for both public and private purposes. The intent of Safe at Home is for those who fear for their safety to be able to maintain a private, confidential home, work, or school address and prevent future harm. To be eligible for the program, participants must reside at a location that is unknown to their abuser and create a safety plan with a victim advocate.

Safe at Home participants are responsible for notifying entities that they are enrolled in the program and updating their records to reflect the substitute assigned address. All entities, including public and private schools, must accept the substitute assigned address as a program participant's legal address. See Wis. Stat. §165.68 (b) and (c). School districts may verify an individual's participation in the program by requesting to view their Safe at Home provided authorization card, or if necessary, contacting Safe at Home directly.

School districts may encounter Safe at Home participants that are:

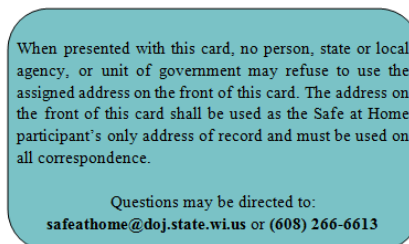

- Students
- Parents or guardians of students
- District employees

Program Authorization Card

FRONT:

BACK:

When a Safe at Home participant presents their program authorization card, their actual address becomes confidential and the Safe at Home assigned address listed on the authorization card should be used for all purposes.

The following information is not considered confidential under Wis. Stat. §165.68, but may still be confidential under FERPA and/or Wis. Stat. §118.125:

- Participation in Safe at Home
- Date of enrollment in Safe at Home
- A participant's assigned address
- State of residence

What to do when a parent or student says, "I am a Safe at Home participant."

1. Verify the status of the program participant by requesting to see their Safe at Home Authorization Card. All Safe at Home program participants are issued an authorization card and are prepared to present it upon request. A parent or legal guardian may present their authorization card on behalf of their minor child or ward. School employees may photocopy this card for school records, if necessary. School employees may also verify a participant's status by contacting Safe at Home directly by phone at (608) 266-6613. To verify a participant's status by phone, please provide the participant's full name and participant ID number (listed on the authorization card). Calls will be returned within 1 business day.
2. If enrolling a student, begin the enrollment process. Do not ask the participant for their actual address or require them to provide proof of residency before starting the enrollment process.
3. Safe at Home encourages districts to adopt one of the following methods to verify a student's enrollment eligibility:
 - a. Complete the "School and District Eligibility Verification" form and submit it directly to Safe at Home. Safe at Home will check the student's enrollment eligibility based on the actual address contained in our records. Please note that this verification method is dependent upon limited district and school boundary information made available to Safe at Home and may not always result in verification of the correct school. A copy of the "School and District Eligibility Verification" form may be found at the end of this guide.
 - b. Designate an administrator within the district that can facilitate a conversation with the enrolling parent or guardian to identify the correct school in which to enroll the student and available transportation options. The parent or guardian may orally disclose an actual address during this conversation for the purpose of identifying a proper school and establishing a correct bus route. The administrator may not make record of the actual address or disclose the actual address in any way. The enrolling parent or guardian may then complete an “Affidavit of Student Enrollment” after being provided the proper school and busing information from the administrator. The “Affidavit of Student Enrollment” may be kept as a part of the student record because it does not contain the student’s actual address.

A copy of the “Affidavit of Student Enrollment” may be found at the end of this guide.

4. Do not request a transfer of pupil records from the student’s previous school. To ensure protection of the Safe at Home participant’s actual address, all transfers of pupil records should be facilitated directly by Safe at Home. Parents or guardians should complete the Safe at Home “Release of Information: School Records” form and provide it directly to Safe at Home, not the school. Safe at Home may then request student records from the previous school and forward them to the enrolling school.
5. Use the Safe at Home assigned address listed on the participant’s authorization card for all internal and external pupil records.

Other Considerations:

Emergency Contact Information - Students that are Safe at Home participants may still provide the school with emergency contact information. Parents should not provide the contact number for Safe at Home as an emergency contact.

School Directory – For safety concerns, it is recommended that Safe at Home participants opt-out of any type of school directory. Please work with Safe at Home participants to identify any directories or public listings that your district publishes. A Safe at Home participant’s actual address should never be listed in a school directory.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: How does a school district provide the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction with confirmation of enrollment and attendance for students enrolled in Safe at Home?

A: Use of a Safe at Home assigned address will not impact any data collection done by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction. Districts should provide information for students participating in Safe at Home the same way that they do for other students.

Q: How should a school district document a Safe at Home participant student that is open enrolling into their district?

A: The nonresident district should use the Safe at Home address as the address of record for the student enrolling into their district. This is the student's legal address to be used for all purposes and should be the only address that appears in the pupil record. The student's actual resident district must be provided and entered into the open enrollment database (OPAL) either by the parent submitting an online application during the regular application period or by the nonresident district entering the application information from an alternative application. The student's actual district of residence may only be disclosed to the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction, the student's nonresident district, and the student's resident district for tracking and funding purposes and may not be disclosed as part of the pupil record.

Q: I have attendance or welfare concerns about a student that is a Safe at Home participant. What should I do?

A: Attendance concerns should be handled in the same manner as any other student. If law enforcement is contacted, inform them that the student is a Safe at Home participant and that any release of information pertaining to the student's actual address should come from Safe at Home directly.

Enrollment in Safe at Home does not exempt anyone from existing mandatory reporting laws. Child welfare reports should be made during school hours, if possible. Inform human services that the student is a Safe at Home participant and that you are prohibited from releasing any actual address information. Human services can ask law enforcement to request a release of participant information directly from Safe at Home.

Q: If the alleged abuser is the other parent, can that person access information about the child?

A: Safe at Home participation does not prevent lawful disclosure of information to parents. Therefore, all school records should reflect only the Safe at Home assigned address.

Q: Can Safe at Home disclose a participant's actual address?

A: Safe at Home may only release actual address information if requested by law enforcement for official purposes or pursuant to court orders. Any other type of request for disclosure of participant's actual address will be denied.

Q: What happens if a Safe at Home participant student moves during the school year?

A: Schools may request verification of enrollment eligibility at any time. If your district would like Safe at Home to re-verify a student's enrollment eligibility, complete and submit the "School and District Eligibility Verification Form" at any time.

Q: Can pictures of Safe at Home participant students be posted on the school website?

A: The law that governs Safe at Home does not pertain to photographic records. Parents or students participating in Safe at Home may request that photographic images not be posted publicly as part of a safety plan. It is recommended that schools consult directly with parents and legal counsel before posting or releasing any kind of photographic information pertaining to students enrolled in Safe at Home.
