Hi Ryan,

Sorry for the delayed response. Due to the high volume of transactions associated with the Convention we are still working our way through the remaining refunds to be issued. Yours and Misha's should go through within the next couple days at the latest. I apologize for the inconvenience.

Please let me know if I can be of any further help.

Best,
Paige

Paige,

I realized I forgot to reply to this. Thanks so much for the clarification. I believe my credit card records still show that a registration fee was charged and not reimbursed. Is it possible the refund is still being processed?

Many thanks,

Ryan

Hi Ryan,

Emily said you had a few questions regarding your attendance. As our guest, you are actually invited to the entire conference and the dinner at no cost. Currently, my records show that both you and Misha are registered for the entire conference. I will refund you both for the convention fees and set you up with complimentary registration.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Best,
Paige

Thanks, Emily. A follow-up question: I registered for the entire convention, and the State will be paying my registration because I will be attending to obtain CLE credits. If I accepted this complimentary offer on the annual dinner, would that reduce the total amount that I would owe to attend the entire convention? I think not, but maybe I'm wrong.

Also, my colleague (Misha Tseytlin, SG of Wisconsin) also received an invitation from Mr. Bunch and has the same question, except that he's registered only for that one day (Thursday).

Thank you!

Ryan

Dear Sir or Madam:

I was pleased to receive this invitation from Mr. Bunch. But I was hoping you could clarify one detail for me: The email mentions that this is a "complimentary invitation." Is the invitation complimentary with respect to the entire Convention, or just the Annual Dinner?

Thanks.

Ryan

Dear Ryan,

I am writing to invite you to join me and my colleagues at The Federalist Society's upcoming National Lawyers Convention, and its Annual Dinner,* celebrating the Society's 35th Anniversary. (You should have received a formal invitation by mail, but there is a decent chance it was lost.)

The dinner will feature remarks by Justice Gorsuch, and the conference will include appearances by Attorney General Jeff Sessions, White House Counsel Don McGahn, Secretary Alex Acosta, OIRA Administrator Neomi Rao, and many of your favorite legal eagles.

The full conference schedule is linked above, and details for the gala are as follows:

When: Thursday, November 16 at 6:00pm

Where: Union Station

Dress: Black Tie Optional

RSVP: 2017dinner@fed-soc.org

I look forward to seeing you.

Jonathan Bunch
Vice President
The Federalist Society
1776 I St. N.W
Washington, DC 20006
\(202\) 822-8138

*If relevant ethical restrictions prevent you from accepting our complementary invitation, I hope you will nonetheless join us and take advantage of the government registration rate available here.
